"Last Chance" Red Offensive Is Driven Back In Korea

Three Million Armed Force, Truman's Plan

President Gives Program To Meet Red Aggression

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Congress rallied today behind a program of increased spending, higher taxes and larger draft calls pointed up by President Truman's plan for a three million man armed force to deter Communist aggression.

Both Republicans and Democrats threw their support to the president's broadcast last night in which he announced that America's fighting force will be doubled and urged all countries, including Russia, to join in a crusade for world peace.

Urges China To Stay Out

Mr. Truman also urged Communist China to stay out of the Korean conflict, assuring the world that the U. S. has no designs on Asiatic territory and said that this country will not start a preventive war.

Whether the new manpower program means universal military training appeared problematical, but Sen. Gurney (R) S. D., predicted that the increase to three million men can be achieved without major changes in the selective service law.

The president's three million men armed force reflected suggestions made earlier this week by Sen. Lodge (R) Mass., and Sen. Pepper (D) Fla., who said the U. S. military services must be placed on a par with Russia's.

Lodge called Mr. Truman's action "a step in the right direction" and added that World War III can be avoided if the U. S. is militarily strong.

American troops stalled the Communist offensive in the west and south, recapturing Yongsan (1) and Haman (2). In the Waegwan (3) sector, where Korea Reds expected to launch a second major attack, U. S. 1st Cavalry troops captured high ground from two to five miles northeast of the city. North of Pohang (4), Yanks drove ahead some 3000 yards. To the west, South Koreans, attacking on 12-mile front, reached the outskirts of Kigye.

Millions Take To Roads For Last Holiday Of Summer

(By International News Service)

Millions of Americans today began enjoying their last fling of summer, the three-day Labor Day weekend, which the National Safety Council estimated will cost 435 lives in traffic accidents alone.

The millions jammed resorts, passed each other going to and escaping from big cities, crowded the highways with an estimated 36 million vehicles and forced railroads, airlines and bus operators to schedule extra accommodations. The National Safety Council predicted grimly that one person will be killed in a traffic accident every 10½ minutes of the 78 hours between 6 o'clock last night and midnight Monday.

Many residents of the eastern part of the nation began their holiday in rainy weather.

Scattered Showers
The weather bureau in Washington forecast scattered showers Saturday and Sunday through the Middle Atlantic states, the south-east and the lower Mississippi valley. Generally fair and cooler weather was predicted for the northeastern states.

It will be warm throughout the remainder of the country, the weather bureau said. Generally fair weather will prevail over the Rocky mountains and on the Pacific Coast.

One of the largest of the Labor Day observances will be held in Chicago's Soldier Field Monday. An estimated 125,000 persons are expected to watch a six-hour program in which more than 4,000 will participate.

O'Dwyer Resigns As Mayor Of New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—(INS)—William O'Dwyer resigned officially as mayor of New York today, and required only 10 words to do it.

O'Dwyer, whose appointment by President Truman as U. S. ambassador to Mexico still awaits Senate approval, left his written resignation behind when he departed with Mrs. O'Dwyer Thursday for a California vacation.

Filed today with City Clerk Murray W. Stand, the resignation said simply, "I resign as mayor of the City of New York."

The resignation automatically gave full powers to Acting Mayor Vincent Impellitteri until a successor to O'Dwyer is elected in November.

New Tax Bill Is Now Near Final Congress Action

Income Tax Rates Boosted; Also Corporation Taxes

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The plan to raise the nation's taxes and provide more "fighting dollars" moved into the last lap of congressional processing today with all assurances that it will soon be the law of the land.

The Senate stayed in session until nearly 10 o'clock last night to stamp its approval on its own version of the 4.5 billion dollar revenue raiser, already okayed by the House in slightly different form.

Senate Finance Committee Chairman George (D) Ga., said the proposal, which is now in the hands of a House-Senate conference, will find a smooth path to the White House and the Internal Revenue Bureau.

No Excess Profits Tax
Due to George's stout opposition the Senate measure contains no provision for excess profits taxes, but it does instruct tax writers in both congressional chambers to ready such a levy for the lawmakers' action next January.

If enacted, the tax would be retroactive to either Oct. 1 or July 1 of this year.

By a vote of 52 to 22, the Senate tabled the McMahon-Benton amendment to continue duty-free import of copper for another year—a change that touched off a filibuster threat by western Senators.

The measure as passed by the Senate will bring in an estimated 1½ billions from increased corporation taxes, and 2½ billions from individual income tax increases. (Continued on Page Two)

U.S. Asks Observers Be Sent To Probe China's Charges

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

By PIERRE J. HUSS
LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Sept. 2.—The United States asked the UN Security Council today to send observers of two nations which have recognized Red China to Manchuria to investigate alleged American strategies.

A resolution circulated among the delegates to the 11-nation body requested the sending of a representative from India and one from Sweden to look into the Peiping regime's charges.

The resolution will be introduced formally at the council's next meeting on Tuesday afternoon.

The U. S. action is aimed at clearing up speedily and convincingly the charges brought by Soviet Delegate Jacob Malik before the security council on behalf of Communist China.

Would Pay Indemnity
Two days ago, Chief American Delegate Warren Austin told the council that the unified command believes that one American fighter-bomber may have crossed five miles into Manchurian territory. He said that the U. S. is prepared to pay indemnity and take disciplinary action against those responsible once such a Chinese border violation is verified.

Counter-Attacks Hurl Enemy Back Thousands Killed

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, U. S. S.)

TOKYO, Sept. 3.—(Sunday)—Smashing counter-attacks of American forces have broken the "last gasp" Communist offensive to win the war they started ten weeks ago today.

Fierce comeback smashes by two U. S. divisions Saturday stopped the all-out drive by 50,000 enemy troops of five divisions toward Pusan except for one Red bridgehead across the Nakdong river's lower bend.

Pusan, major United Nations entry port on the southeast coast, was believed safe because American military observers doubted the Communist invaders could mount a new major offensive.

Thousands of North Koreans perished and huge quantities of their weapons were seized as the Americans pressed their comeback attacks to recapture Yongnan and the important Yongsan-Changnyong road. The U. S. units also smashed beyond recovered Haman.

Far to the north, other U. S. and South Korean divisions uncocked fresh assaults north of Taegu and above Pohang along the upper rim of the United Nations defense rectangle.

The U. S. First Cavalry Division stormed three heights northeast of Waegwan and two South Korean divisions, paced by an American armored regiment, drove north and northwest from the environs of the eastern port of Pohang.

The First Cavalry troops were repulsed after reaching the crest of one of the three ridges 15 miles above Taegu. But the Allied forces along the east sector advanced nearly two miles in a drive to regain Kigye, taken by the Reds in a surprise pre-dawn attack Friday.

Offensive Is Stalled
Along the 85-mile southern and western front, stretching up from Taegu to Taegu, 12 miles south-west of Taegu, five Red divisions, approximately 50,000 troops, were stemmed and at points sharply hurled back by the resurgent Americans.

This was the situation as of midnight Saturday, except at Changnyong and in the enemy's eastward-pointing bulge straddling the lower arm of the Nakdong and wedged between the U. S. 25th and Second Divisions.

International News Service Correspondent Irving Levine, in a dispatch received in Tokyo from the western front at 10:52 Saturday night (8:52 a. m. EDT), said the enemy was moving heavy reinforcements into the bulge.

The invaders' apparent purpose was an effort to exploit the only important penetration left to them—a salient which at one time rammed to within nearly ten miles of the Pusan-Taegu lifeline. A second division spokesman declared:

Planning New Offensive
"The enemy appears to be building up for an offensive from the Nakdong bend on the road leading from Chirhyon to Yongsan."

Chirhyon lies below the south bank of the Nakdong's west-east arm, 11 miles south of Yongsan. Below Yongsan, retaken by the Americans Saturday afternoon after the Reds had captured it early Saturday morning, lies the north rim of the enemy's bulge, now reduced by one fourth.

Six miles north of Yongsan, units of three Communist divisions launched a violent assault late Saturday upon the road junction of Changnyong, 15 miles west of Taegu-Pusan railway.

The Communists, halted by the U. S. 25th Division in the south wing of their "last gasp" push on the Keystone port of Pusan, apparently had shifted their main strength north to attack at the American Second Division.

Under Heavy Attack
In a dispatch received at midnight Saturday (10 a. m. EDT), INS War Correspondent John Rich was quoted as announcing:

"The American forces inside Changnyong are under heavy attack after the Reds mortar-shelled the town Saturday morning."

The officer said 15 spearheading Red tanks were spotted just west (Continued on Page Two)

Several Persons Hurt In Volant Auto Accident

Wet weather caused the Zarella sedan to skid into her car, State Police said.

She sustained contusions of the legs, left arm, wrist and right arm. Denise McConnell, 17, of 1611 East Washington street, sustained a scalp laceration. Kathy McConnell, 14, same address, received abrasions of the face, hands and right leg. They were in Zarella's auto.

Okay boss I'm ready to work, ready to hit the old grind, ready for anything you can dish out, I'm rested and peppy I find. It was swell doing nothing and loafing, just keeping a date with the sun, relaxing, unwinding, and eating a lot, spending my days having fun. This time I did little driving, fact is I wasn't away, this time was really vacation, it's 78 today.

A Norwood avenue resident reports to Pa News that she has a beautiful sephyr, or fairy lily in bloom. The blossom on her plant is pink. Often the lilies are pure white, measuring two inches across.

Years ago, programs of an extensive nature marked local observance of Labor Day. In recent years however, the holiday has been marked by an absence of such parades, etc. Only special Labor Day programs in the county this year are announced for Hillsville on Sunday and Monday.

Last three day weekend holiday of the summer is in progress and auto traffic is increasing steadily on highways through this district. Police authorities are on the alert to keep down traffic accidents, but the individual driver carries the great responsibility of making this increased traffic safe. Drive carefully!

Heavy rains which developed in the New Castle area on Friday appear to have been general in a wide area. All ball games scheduled in the various cities in the Mid-Atlantic League last night had to be postponed on account of rain.

Since publication of a report by E. Gene Schweinsberg that city employees found false teeth in a catch-basin, he has received several inquiries concerning teeth which have been lost by local residents. He said the streets department no longer has the false teeth.

of Changnyong, between the city and Lake Yupo, late Saturday a few hours before the North Koreans began storming the key town.

Simultaneously, 75 American fighter-bombers blasted and raked enemy concentrations along a corridor east of the Nakdong near Changnyong. This indicated that two Second Division forward companies, which had been cut off in the area by Reds Friday, either had been wiped out or escaped back to their parent force.

Along the southern flank of the U. S. Second Division, the Communists were building up reinforcements in troops, tanks and guns across the Nakdong where the river bends eastward from its north-south course.

Surging Counter-Drive
Below the river's west-east stretch, the U. S. 25th Division summered west of a mile and a half beyond recaptured Haman Saturday morning, in a surging counter-drive over flat terrain with piles of enemy dead.

The Americans' advance bypassed large enemy forces. One isolated group of about 1,000 Communist troops was trapped west of Haman behind the forward-moving 25th Division lines. This enemy pocket was smacked by flocks of low-sweeping U. S. planes which strafed the foe with machine gun fire and hit the Reds with napalm (jelly gasoline bombs). Ground units later reported most of the North Koreans were annihilated.

The 25th Division in its dramatic counter-push was rolling back the North Korean Sixth and Seventh Divisions. But Red infiltrators still were deep in the American rear—one small group reaching all the way into Masan, only 25 miles west of vital Pusan, before it was eliminated.

At Chindongni, a few miles southwest of Masan, the south flank units of the 25th Division repulsed a strong armor-tipped enemy attack Saturday. And, five miles northwest of Masan which is the western harbor gateway to Pusan, fighting prevailed Saturday evening on the road to Haman.

The president said: "Let would-be aggressors make no such mistake today."

If the Korean war spreads into a general conflict, he added, global Communism will have to bear the blame.

The chief executive renewed his fervent hope for world peace and explained that the U. S. seeks freedom and independence for all nations of the Far East.

No 'Preventive War'
He said that "We do not want Formosa or any part of Asia" and the U. S. will not start a preventive war.

These statements sought to clear up confusion over the "preventive war" remarks made by Navy Secretary Matthews and Air Force Maj. Gen. Orvil Anderson. Mr. Truman again repudiated Gen. MacArthur's declaration that the U. S. must control Formosa to prevent World War III.

On the home front, the president said that U. S. production has increased 60 per cent in the past ten years and that farmers are producing one-fifth more than in 1940.

He warned of greater sacrifices, however, to prevent inflation. The president said "We shall have to give up many things we enjoy."

NEW TAX BILL IS NOW NEAR FINAL CONGRESS ACTION

The rest would come from closing loopholes in the present law.

Income Taxes To Increase
Individual income taxes will increase from the starting rate of 16.6 per cent to 20 per cent, and in the top bracket from 82 to 91 per cent, effective July 1.

For corporations the bill makes the tax 45 per cent on incomes over $25,000, a boost from 38 per cent on incomes over $50,000. It eliminates the "notch" rate of 53 per cent effective between $25,000 and $50,000.

Firms with incomes below $25,000 will pay 25 per cent. Under present law they pay from 21 to 25 per cent. The increases are retroactive to July 1, 1950.

under the heading of "Complaint of Bombing by Air Forces of the Territory of China." Chinese Communist Foreign Minister Chou En-Lai has sent three separate notes in the past week to U. N. alleging such raids.

In addition to asking the council for a two-man N. U. investigating team, the resolution would ask all governments and authorities to grant safe conduct and access to all pertinent information to the commission. The resolution also requests the unified command and the secretary general to cooperate with the commission in meeting all its needs.

The Chinese Communist charges were not touched on at the hectic Friday meeting at which Malik received a stinging rebuke in failing to keep the South Korean representative away from the council table.

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

FRENCH ARE SEEKING REALISM

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—It was the French who came forward with the Schuman plan for a realistic pooling of the steel industry of western Europe. Now the French government has sent two notes to the state department which seek to put some much needed realism into all the paper planning for the defense of western Europe.

What the French say, in effect, is that there can be no real defense for Europe until the North Atlantic nations agree to pool their resources. With the logic that has long been their chief characteristic, the French note-writers repeat what is so often pointed out—that the resources of the west in men and materials are certainly not inferior to those of the Soviet Union. But, if these resources are not directed toward a common goal, then it is only an illusion to add up totals.

Fear of Inflation
The first note reflects the French fear of disastrous inflation resulting from a re-armament program. As a specific measure against this, the note recommends extension of the European payments plan to include the United States and Canada. If that is not possible, then the French want a complete and unlimited reciprocal payments plan among all the western European nations.

On the subject of military manpower, the French government is somewhat more discreet. But a little reading between the lines makes quite clear the French conviction that what applies to money and materials must also apply to men.

Foreign Minister Robert Schuman will come to New York in ten days to sit down with Secretary of State Dean Acheson and British Ernest Bevin. The shrewd Schuman will spell out in the foreign ministers' talks the question of troops for Europe's defense.

Cannot Furnish Manpower
He is expected to say, in unmistakably clear language, that France cannot furnish all the military manpower.

Highly Doubtful
Whether out of a total of 18 divisions, with one now in western Germany, three more could be spared for that area is highly doubtful. As a target date, January 1 would seem to be early. There is no discernible intention in this pre-election phase of the defense program to move into the stage of preparation.

The Parent Problem
By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

BAD PRACTICE IN DIVORCE CASES

When I was a boy on the farm I noticed that some farmers having a cat they didn't wish to keep, would drive with it several miles from home and leave this cat by the roadside near some farm-house, hoping the cat might find a home there. This procedure seemed to save the conscience of the original owners of the cat. But what a cowardly mean thing to do. Some judges seem to practice somewhat similar cowardice when, on finding some person brought before them to be a kind of social nuisance, they will let him go free if he stays beyond the city or county limits.

Cowardly Procedure
Usually, also, it has seemed to me an equally cowardly procedure when a judge of the court issuing a divorce decree will assign a child to the custody of one of the divorcees with the proviso that this child shall spend a certain number of hours or days with the other parent. The judge seems to consider this an easy way out for him. He hardly considers the welfare of the child. Granted that if the child is over 12 or 14 there might be some cases in which such divided custody might be wise. It rarely can be wholesome for the younger child.

When the child assigned to the custody of one of the divorced parents is assigned with the proviso that he shall spend part of his time with the other parent, this other parent and his or her own spouse and relatives are practically certain to tug at the innocent child's heartstrings and to poison his mind and heart against the parent to whom he is assigned, and vice versa.

Feels Insecure
As a result the child may be greatly confused and feel very insecure. He will find it harder to cooperate with the parent to whose custody he was assigned by the court. And if this parent remarries, the step-parent may find it very difficult to bring up this child well. The stepmother of a boy, seven, writes: "His own mother, who is remarried, gets him seven hours a week. He tells us that they say he doesn't have to do what we tell him to. He doesn't mind or pay attention at home or school. We're going to try and have his visitation with his mother cut to once or twice a month. Yet he tells us he would rather live with us than with his mother. Have you any suggestions?"

Parents considering divorce, who really love their own children, will give serious thought to the child's welfare and happiness following the divorce, not to mention the heartaches this child must endure from the divorce proceedings and the unhappy parent-parent relationship, leading up thereto. Better still, they will each try harder to get along well together.

Before considering divorce, each parent should resolve that if he or she lost the custody of the child through the divorce decree, he or she would best prove genuine love of the child by helping him gradually lose his affection for this parent. Certainly, this parent would avoid saying or doing anything to cause the child to be unhappy with the other parent or with the step-parent, hard as such a course might be.

Bible Thought

LUXURY ITEMS

Inside Washington

MARCH OF EVENTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Government foreign policy experts are keeping their fingers crossed, but they believe that neither Russia nor Communist China want to get into a major war at this time.

The basis for their reasoning is that each has enough trouble at home. This is known to be true in China, where famine faces the population in the north in almost unprecedented proportions.

Moreover, Russia has been taking grain out of the country, a matter not likely to escape public notice despite strict censorship. Because of these factors officials doubt that an invasion of Formosa will be attempted.

Peiping is expected to rely on a mere threat to keep Chiang Kai-shek's forces tied up. Other officials feel that Russia's hands are tied because of economic poverty.

This factor tends to keep the administration alert over Europe. A drive there is considered most likely since Soviet economy, unable to get along on its own, covets the Ruhr and all the rest of the great forges of Europe.

Iron Hand in Velvet
The new Senate war investigating subcommittee appears to be taking an iron-hand-in-the-velvet-glove approach to its task.

Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (D, Texas), has announced that the subcommittee will shun headlines, check politics at the committee door and refrain from telling the generals and admirals how to map strategy.

Nevertheless, the unit firmly led by Defense Secretary Louis Johnson know that the investigators expect facts from the military—and no glossing over of possible painful situations.

This was made clear by senators in their first meeting with the defense chief. The chairman told the secretary at the closed-door session: "Even if your people think we are wrong in our evaluation of a specific matter, we want a factual report upon which we can make our own determination. If we are right, we expect a report telling us what has been done to correct the situation."

Old-timers around Capitol Hill will note that the probers are getting off to much the same start as their model, the famed Truman investigating committee of World War II.

Two weeks after it was formed, the Truman committee made no news. Then, well-grounded, it went into headline-producing case after case. Lyndon Johnson has told newsmen he expects his unit will eventually use the "case" procedure.

Congress Adjournment
It is now just about certain that Congress will not adjourn until just before the next Congress convenes, early in January.

Congressional leaders had hoped that the nation's business could be wound up in time to adjourn, but the load of war emergency legislation appears to have spiked all such hopes.

Action is still to be completed on the war-necessitated tax increase bill, wage-price control legislation, the omnibus appropriation bill, a Communist control measure and a supplemental war appropriation.

Leaders have resigned themselves to a series of three-day recesses at best, with the technicality of adjournment taking place near the end of the year.

WASHINGTON—Senator Brian McMahon, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Committee . . .

As long as Russia possesses atomic bombs, our vital government agencies should not be bunched together in downtown Washington."

SOUTH DENNIS, Mass.—Dr. Vannevar Bush, wartime director of the Office of Scientific Research and Development . . .

"I don't think the Russians are likely to become trigger happy."

BALTIMORE—Senator Millard Tydings, Maryland Democrat . . .

"In truth, whatever my strength and weaknesses are, it never has occurred to me that anybody could question my love of country and my opposition to and contempt for all communists and fellow travelers, whether in or out of government."

WASHINGTON—Senator Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska . . .

"If the President believed the communist aggressors who seized China will keep their hands off Formosa when U.S. warships are withdrawn he is engaging in the same wishful thinking that Communist North Korea would not attack South Korea after American troops were withdrawn from South Korea."

FOLKS OF FAME

A hero of the south, Jefferson Davis was born June 3, 1808, on a Kentucky farm. He graduated from the U. S. Military Academy in 1828. He served in the army for seven years, then he retired to become a Mississippi cotton planter.

He married Sarah Knox Taylor, but his bride died soon after their marriage, and 10 years later he married Varina Howell. He was elected to the House of Representatives in 1845; was appointed to the Senate in 1847, and became Secretary of War under President Franklin Pierce in 1854. He was chosen provisional president of the Confederate States February 9, 1862. He died December 6, 1869.

The wife of Napoleon II, emperor of the French, Empress Eugenie of France was born at Granada May 5, 1826. Her childhood was spent in Madrid, but after 1834 she lived with her mother and sister, chiefly in Paris. She gave birth to a son on March 16, 1856. She was best known, perhaps, as the mirror of fashion of all Europe. On the collapse of the empire she fled to England, and settled with her husband and son at Chislehurst. After Napoleon's death, she found a faithful friend in Queen Victoria. Her son was killed in the Zulu war in 1879, and she died in Madrid, July 11, 1920, during a visit.

Try And Stop Me

The Park Avenue Prevaricators' annual tournament was won this year by the brazen member who insisted he had dropped a bottle of hair tonic by accident into Lake George. Soon all the fish began to grow long beards. Anglers simply sat in their shacks, planted red and white barber poles at the edge of the water, and hollered "next."

Leo Guild saw two youngsters stop in front of a movie palace, and heard one of them exclaim, "Goody, goody. This one has a picture we haven't seen very often."

Judge Mahoney tells of a law firm named "Button, Button, Button and Button." A new partner introduced himself as "Mr. Zipper." "Yes," he explained, "I've replaced one of the Buttons."

Transatlantic Phoning

By PAUL GALLICO

PARIS, Sept. 2.—Strange and wonderful the things that happen to a man in the throes of making a transatlantic telephone call from Europe to the folks back home.

It is now more than a decade since this service was instituted, but the Americans have not got used to it yet. He believes that "Darling," who is the party most often to be found at the other end of the line, will only be able to hear him if he yells his head off and he apparently operates on the theory that if the gadget does not succeed in carrying his voice he will take no chances and bellow loud enough to be heard without a radio-telephone.

This of course defeats its own purpose, because the louder he hollers, the more it blasts back and the less "Darling," or "Mama," on the other end can hear. But since she is likewise screaming into the instrument at the top of HER lungs, it really makes no difference anyway, and particularly in view of the fact that neither of them has anything really important to say to one another.

Sort Of Paralyzes Mind

But it is the truth that to make a call via this expensive means does do something to paralyze the mind—at least mine—and if I do not write down on a sheet of paper everything that I wish to say, no sooner does my party come on when I find myself lost in that "Hello, how are you—I'm fine—I'm fine too—it's a good connection; I can hear you fine—that's right I can hear you fine too" merry-go-round and all of a sudden the operator is announcing that three minutes and twenty-one dollars have gone by.

It must be the price that has something to do with it, because when I am home where I subscribe and get on the line for four cents or whatever it costs, I can call a guy up and in a minute and a half tell him the plot of a story I want to sell, invite him out to lunch, pass along the one I heard the other day about the two travelling salesmen and inquire after the wife and kiddies.

But let me just have that seven cents a minute running against me and it takes me four minutes to work up to a simple declarative sentence.

Heard One Of Victims

Thanks to the thin walls of a hotel, the other day I was able to hear the conversation of one of the victims of transatlantic telephonitis and record his conversation with the little woman who was sitting back home in New York, or Hasbrouck Heights, or Milwaukie, and it went something like this. The parentheses will be mine.

"Hello, hello, hello, hello. Hello, darling . . ." (By actual count. Run those hellos off on a stopwatch, and our guy has had approximately a buck's worth of hellos, and what I say is it ain't worth it at the price.)

"Hello, darling. How are ya . . . Yeah, fine . . . Where are ya, home?" (Now there's one for the book. The guy's given the operator his own home telephone number, his wife has accepted the call; he knows she is using the phone in the front hall closet because it's the quietest place, and he asks her whether she is at home. Where does he think she is, at the movies? But that's transatlanticitis.)

"What's that? What? I can't hear ya. . . I said I can't hear ya. Oh, ya are at home. Well, that's fine. How are ya?" (Well, that little one about finding out she is at home runs about a dollar and a half. But, wait, that's not the end yet.)

And So It Goes On And On

"Darling, did you get my letter yet? I said did ya get my letter yet? I wrote ya a letter. I airmailed it yesterday. Yeah, you oughta get it sometime tomorrow. I wrote ya about meeting the Smiths on the boat. Yeah, that's right, the Smiths. Remember them? I wrote ya all about it in the letter." (So the guy has written her a letter which cost him only fifteen cents to mail, and he has now spent $5.85 more in telling her on the transatlantic phone what she is going to find out anyway when the letter arrives.)

"Yeah, I think I'll be home on the 27th. What's that? I can't hear ya. Ya can't hear me either. . . Operator, operator? What's that, I'm talking too loud? Well, I want her to hear me. Okay, that better, darling? I said I'd try to get home on the 27th. No, no, no, the 17th, the 27th . . . Oh, h—, never mind, darling. I'll write it to you in a letter . . ." (So now he's going to put everything he just has said into another letter.)

But I feel for him. It goes just like that when you're shrieking over the ocean waves.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

There are two kinds of dreams—night-dreams and day-dreams.

The night-dream ends with the awakening.

It is like a novel you have read, a play you have seen.

The night dream is an adventure.

You never know in advance what it is going to be—a comedy, a drama, a wonderful excursion into the marble halls of fairyland or something almost as ghastly as some of those horror stories you hear on your radio or see on your television set.

Thus, let us dismiss the night-dream. There is nothing you can do about it—except perhaps not eat too heavy night lunch before going to bed.

The day dream—that is something altogether different.

We all do day-dreaming, and it is good that we do.

Out of day-dreams often comes action. Day dreams have inspired many a writer, many a musician, many a painter, many a business-man.

Day-dreams can soften reality, make dull lives interesting, promote romance and success.

But in day-dreams there may also lie danger and disappointment, as we shall see.

A while ago we met a lovely young married couple. She was about 23, he 28.

Both were well-educated, well-groomed, well-mannered. Both radiated happiness.

There was an ideal couple, we thought.

A few days later I took a ride through the countryside.

As is my wont, I got away from the main road and started to explore the out-of-the-way places.

I stopped at a picturesque little inn to have a bite of lunch.

I had got no farther than "A roast beef sandwich, please, and a cup of . . ." when something about the waitress startled me.

She looked familiar, and I must have looked the same to her—her face was as red as a beet.

Then I recognized her—the young married girl of a few days ago!

Only now she wasn't dressed in modish clothes, but in a white uniform a cap on her head.

I was the only guest at the place, so we had a talk. By now she was crying.

"Why the tears?" I asked. She told me her story.

Her husband had recently started on a new job. It was a commission job, but they couldn't wait for the commissions to come in.

They had a lot of "nice" friends who made a lot of money. They had to put up a "front" for business reasons.

They started day-dreaming about all the things they were going to do when the money began to roll in.

But, like many day-dreamers, they mistook dream for reality, and they started to make their dream come true right away.

They bought a home. They bought an automobile. They went neck-deep into debt.

Their day-dream became a nightmare.

So she got herself a job. Not being trained for anything special, she had to accept the first thing that was offered.

"Don't you think we are a couple of darn fools?" she asked as she finished her story.

"No," I replied, "you simply mistook speculation for investment. Lots of people much older and wiser than you do that."

All Schools Should Require American History-Rickey

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 2.—(INS)—The 1119 students graduated from Ohio State university yesterday have a great big soft spot in their heart for Branch Rickey, the boss of baseball's Brooklyn Dodgers.

Urging him on despite the rain, the Ohio Staters heard Rickey score American colleges and universities which do not require American history for degrees.

Discarding his rain-soaked manuscript, Rickey delivered an informal address. He leaned on his elbows on the speaker's stand and injected references to the Bible and writers of history into his speech.

Offering the graduation candidates a "rain check" on his speech, their applause kept him at the rostrum.

He declared:

"If schools and colleges would teach American history and basic Christianity, they could mark an end to subversive movements."

"How can any intelligent American citizen become anti-Christ until he knows the life, teachings and personality of Christ?"

Requiem High Mass At Cemetery, Sunday

women and children of the Polish nation who have given their respective lives for the preservation of liberty and the high ideals of mankind.

At the conclusion of the requiem mass, Fr. Kuzminski will preach the eulogy. The obsequious service will conclude with group singing and collective prayer.

Milk Commission Orders Are Defied In Sharon Area

HARRISBURG, Sept. 2.—(INS)—Milk control commission officials today marked time in retaliating against Sharon milk dealers who have defied a price raising order. Chairman H. N. Cobb said the MCC will not act until after the result of an investigation of the dispute have been scrutinized.

A spokesman said the case marked the first time in the board's history that dealers in an entire city area have defied MCC orders. Sharon dealers joined in the protest after the MCC ordered the general 19 cents a quart price for standard milk eliminated and raised the store price to 20 cents and the home delivered price to 21 cents.

The protest is designed, it is understood by the MCC, to underline the spread between the Pennsylvania price level and a lower schedule effective in Ohio.

Marriages In August Jump

More Permits Issued Than In Month Of June

Marriage license applications really took a big jump during the month of August, the record of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar reveals.

A total of 164 licenses were issued in August, 34 more than in June, the proverbial month of brides. The number was 42 more than in August of 1949.

The war in Korea is believed to be responsible for the great increase in number.

Volant Church Group Picnics

Wet weather caused a picnic planned for the Volant park on Thursday evening to be held in the dining room of the Methodist church. Forty-seven members of the church school were present for the 7 o'clock supper and the social hour which followed.

Committee members in charge of arrangements were Mrs. Elmer Perdue, Mrs. James Byers, Mrs. Eric Rosenholm, Paul Shaw and Walt Lesnett. Aides were Jack Wallace, superintendent; Mrs. Gertrude Wallace, Mrs. H. A. Silvis and Gibson Martin.

The entertainment was conducted by Mrs. Perdue and Paul Shaw. Beginning with a penny hunt for the very small children with Darlene Shaw and Buzzy Perdue winners, the program continued with another stunt for the same group. It was a lollipop scramble while the lights turned off, which was won by Marvin Carr. A potato race followed with Billy Perdue and Alan Byers winning over Harrison John Marino, 766 1/2 Harrison street, rear 518 Pearson street, New Castle.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

MATCH DARTS

In English pubs and elsewhere, darts furnish amusement for many an adult. But they're as much fun for youngsters, too. And with a few minutes work on your part and no expense, your youngsters can have a set of their own.

The darts are made from kitchen size wooden matches. One end is slit so that a piece of folded paper 2 1/2 square can be slipped in. Four lines are drawn on the square, two dividing it into four equal squares and two drawn from corner to corner. The paper is folded on these lines so that it makes a four pointed star. The head of a large sewing needle is forced into the other end so that the point will stick in the target when thrown.

A piece of corrugated board makes the best target since it is easily penetrated by the needle point. Made of concentric circles like a rifle or archery target, the target for your dart game should be about fifteen inches in diameter.

Though the homemade darts are not as substantial as ones bought in a shop, they are so easily made that it's no problem to supply new ones if they fall apart!

One Railroad Controversy Is Reported Settled

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—(INS)

—Hopes for a general labor peace on 195 army-operated railroads are still dim today even though the White House has won an agreement between 10 roads and 90,000 union switchmen.

Spokesmen for the disputants emerged from a session at the White House yesterday with a new wage and hour pact ending their 17-month wrangle.

But leaders of 300,000 yardmen, conductors and trainmen made it clear that the agreement will not budge them from the demands that nearly erupted in a strike and provoked presidential seizure last Sunday in the interest of national defense.

A spokesman for the trainmen and conductors said he expects the disputants to be summoned to a joint bargaining session with Mr. Truman's assistant, Dr. John R. Steelman, either next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Settlement of the smaller crisis included provision of a 40-hour work week after one year and wage hikes based partly on the cost of living index.

Enlistment Changes Made In Marine Corps

Maj. H. V. Joslin, officer in charge of the Marine Corps recruiting district of Pittsburgh, has announced sweeping changes in enlistment policies and further information relative to the assignment to active duty of Marine Corps reservists.

Under the new authority received this week, the local office has commenced the enlistment of men without previous Marine Corps service in the reserve for an indefinite period. Men so enlisted will be ordered to active duty immediately and transferred to the Marine Corps recruit depot at Parris Island, S. C., for basic training.

Also, the Marine Corps may now accept first enlistments for three or four years. Previously, the shortest Marine enlistment was for four years.

Other new developments included authority to reenlist former Marines who were last discharged in the grade of sergeant or below for immediate assignment to active duty with the rank last held. Those Marine veterans who are now members of the reserve and who are in the grade of sergeant or below may expect an early call to active duty.

Such orders will be received from the director of the reserve district to which the Marine is now attached, rather than the local recruiting office.

Wednesday noon's weekly luncheon meeting of the New Castle Kiwanis Club will be addressed by John W. Grajciar, of Sharon, a representative of the CIO UMW, his discussion will be one pertinent to labor relations. Election of officers, which was held over from last week, will take place at this time. Dr. L. B. Smith, of the Beaver Falls club, is the nominee of Division Two for lieutenant governor.

Pfc. L. McClanahan At Air Force Base

Pfc. Leonard S. McClanahan has finished his basic training at the U. S. Air Force Base, Lackland Air Base, San Antonio, Texas. He has been transferred to the 92nd Bomber Group at Spokane Air Force Base, Bang, Wash.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClanahan of Woods and Pearl streets, Union township.

ARE NEW JERSEY HIGHWAYS DIFFERENT FROM PENNSYLVANIA'S?

Here in Pennsylvania we pride ourselves, and justly so, upon our highways, upon the skill of our highway engineers and upon our adoption of modern highway methods as they develop.

Yet our truck laws have not been modernized for a quarter of a century. New Jersey apparently believes in keeping pace with all developments.

On January 1, 1951 the maximum axle load for a single axle becomes 22,400. Pennsylvania's is still 20,000. New Jersey has legalized the safe modern, efficient tandem axle and will permit 32,000 pounds per axle. The gross weight limit in New Jersey for tractor, semi-trailer, single or tandem axle loads, will be 60,000. Pennsylvania's is 45,000.

New Jersey has an amazing highway system. Has to in order to handle its tremendous volume of motor traffic. But honestly do you believe their highways are better than ours? Or is it that New Jersey believes in progress?

Senators Battle Oil City In Twin Bills Here Sunday And Monday

Senators Intensify Battle For Second Place Finish; Have Six Games Yet To Play

New Castle's spunky young Senators, begin a battle tonight for second place in the Middle-Atlantic League, by meeting the Butler Tigers in a twin-bill at Butler, then will return home to battle the Oil City Refiners in a twin-bill here Sunday and Monday to end the 1950 regular playing season.

The Senators at the moment are trailing Butler by only three games, and are six behind Oil City. Butler has five games to play counting the contests tonight. Oil City and New Castle have six games to play. Two New Castle wins at Butler tonight will make a very interesting finish the final two days, leaving Butler only one game ahead of New Castle, with three for Butler at Johnston and four for New Castle with Oil City at Flaherty Field. If Oil City loses six straight, and New Castle wins six straight the league race could end in a tie.

First Game Sunday At 2 O'clock
The first game here Sunday will start at 2 o'clock and in the event of good weather the ball park will no doubt be jammed as interest in the New Castle-Oil City games has been terrific. Oil City will send a large delegation of fans here to watch their favorites. New Castle and Oil City have been bitter rivals all year, starting back in Green-castle and Fredericksburg, Md., where both teams trained.

Twin-Bill Monday
The afternoon game Monday will start at 2:30 o'clock, the evening game at 8:30 o'clock. Both are nine inning games. The first game Sunday will be nine innings, the night-cap will be seven innings. Oil City, only three ahead of Butler, will have to win two tonight if Butler wins two, and will have to take two out of the four with New Castle to finish on top, providing Butler sweeps the New Castle and Johnston series.

There is a very interesting weekend of baseball ahead for the Mid-Atlantic teams as they head for the wire.

Senators Trail At Butler
New Castle and Butler got three innings played at Butler last night before rain called a halt to the proceedings, and Butler leading 2 to 1, but New Castle in the top of the fourth had a man on first when Mouton tripped and tied it up. Churchill was on the hill for New Castle.

Churchill and Becka will do the New Castle hurling tonight providing the weatherman is so inclined.

Tuesday Game In Doubt
Just where New Castle plays next Tuesday in the start of the Shughnessy playoffs, can only be determined by what transpires the next six games over the holiday week-end.

The first two series games will be played in the two towns that finish on top.

All series games will be played at night on week days and will start at 8 o'clock. The Sunday games start at 2:30 o'clock.

Liposky Pitches New Castle To Win Over Louisville 10-2

DAYTON, Ohio, Sept. 2.—New Castle, Penna., got off to a solid start as the opening round of the NABF Junior tournament finally was played here yesterday. New Castle behind the two hit hurling of "Rich" Liposky whipped Louisville, Ky., 10-2.

Two big innings—the six-run fourth, and four-run eighth, were all Liposky needed. Liposky had three hits including a double and Chuck Brown, Carmen Delone and Tom Costello also chipped in with three blows—Costello had two long triples.

Liposky struck out 17 batters and walked just two. Three rounds are slated for Saturday—if rains which started again at 11 p. m. don't spoil things—for all teams.

New Castle meets Atlanta, Ga., at 9 p. m. and plays again at 1 and 4 p. m. if still in tourney.

All-Stars In Need Of Cash

Because of heavy rainstorms at Dayton, O., it has been impossible for N.A.B.F. Junior Tournament teams to play off games as scheduled, and because of this, the expenses of the All-Stars of New Castle have piled up, and the team is in need of immediate financial assistance.

The All-Stars may be required to remain at Dayton, both Sunday and Monday, to complete their schedule.

Their game Thursday was "washed out." Yesterday, the All-Stars beat Louisville. They have three games yet to play, and must win two of the four scheduled, to remain in the tournament.

Dick Davis and Joe Medure, both city councilmen, have consented to accept cash donations from fans who are financially able to help the team. Donations may be made, if fans will call Mr. Davis at 6757-J, and Mr. Medure at 6710.

The team did not have too much money with which to make the trip and pay its expenses, and now that rain has interfered with the schedule, financial help is needed.

Chicago Cards Topple 49'ers

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—(INS)—An apparently defeated Chicago Cardinal pro football team staged a three-touchdown rally in the final quarter last night to conquer the favored San Francisco 49'ers, 28-21, in a Comiskey park exhibition witnessed by 29,207.

The Cardinals, fighting to win their first exhibition game in five 1950 starts, rode to victory on the spectacular passing of Jim Hardy, who tossed three scoring aeri-als, to overcome a third quarter 21-7 lead held by the visitors.

Trippi Stars
Halfback Charley Trippi was on the end of the first scoring pass, a 35-yard pitch, and end Robert Shaw snagged the last two.

Forty-niner signal caller Frankie Albert played his customary brilliant football in the Chicago Herald-American benefit contest, tossing two scoring aeri-als.

The third 49'er score resulted from a punt blocked by Nomellini, giant lineman from Minnesota.

Trap And Skeet Sunday Event

There will be a trap and skeet shoot Sunday at the Harbor Sportsman range 2 to 6 o'clock. It was announced today by Paul Crable. All shooters are invited to participate.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

JOE LOUIS, who once retired as world's heavyweight boxing king, is training for a titular fight with Ezzard Charles, who, by virtue of his win over Jersey Joe Walcott, captured the heavyweight title, according to the National Boxing association. However, in New York state, Louis is yet recognized as heavyweight champion, ring solons of the Empire State having decided that titles may be won and lost, only in the ring.

Louis is aged and Ezzard is his junior by years. Joe has returned to fistic warfare for the purpose of paying off a tax bill he is said to owe Uncle Sam. Joe hopes to draw sufficient money from the Charles bout, to not only accomplish this, but also to pay off the "cut" that will be due from his earnings for the Charles fight.

Answer to query: Yes, Joe Chip knocked out Harry Greb at Pittsburgh but Greb never knocked out Joe. However, Greb did outpoint Jo in a Youngstown bout which was boxed in Idora Park. ... Dogs are being trained preparatory to the small game season. It might also be well for hunters to inspect their shotguns. No sooner had Lou Boudreau announced "The Indian Tribe will win the American league flag" than the "Injuns" began losing. Cincinnati may have got off to a bad start this season, but so far in the National loop, they proved the second best team, the Phils being first. ... Brooklyn, new entry into the American Football league will play home games at the Dodgers plant, Ebbetts field. ... Judging from the few headlines he has received this season, Joe Page of the Yankees, who was the Yanks star relief man in 1949, is baseball's "Forgotten Man". ... Fordham, once a power in the grid world, is expected to have its strongest eleven since before the war.

SPEAKING OF THE 1915 championship Phils, Al Demaree is now a sports cartoonist and Stan Baumhartner, writes baseball. Both were pitchers. ... Four former Penn State athletes have returned to the Nittany Lions' various staffs. They are: Joe Tocchi, basketball to freshman floor staff and physical education; Joe Colone, 1948 grid captain and Ray Uilinski to physical education instructorships and assistant trainers and Steve Suhey, All-American guard, will combine graduate work with teaching, and coaching duties. ... Johnny Fulvi, former Shenango high football star, is a dispenser nowadays. ... Phil Rizzuto has been at bat 498 times as of August 31. He will fall short of the record which is 671, set by Johnny Tobin of the Browns in 1921. ... Billy Pearce of the Chicago White Sox has turned in the best A. L. hurling performance this year. He pitched a one-hitter against the Yankees. It has been more than two years since the last no-hit game was pitched in the American League. Bob Lemon of the Indians had one against Detroit June 30, 1948. ... Angelo Bertelli, former Notre Dame star, is the new coach of the Patterson Panthers in the American Football loop. ... Jim Housheer, East Washington street, has loaned Her. & There a book, captioned "Wrestling From Antiquity to Date." It was written by John L. Meyers, an ex-wrestler and referee and is very informative. When he was much younger and more spritely, Jim was a "rassler." Jim Londo was his pal and some day we're going to ask him to tell the story of how Londo, he and others played rough in the late Lenny Morgan's hotel in Sharon. Lenny will be remembered by many of the old-timers of this city.

Tournament Entry Deadline Tonight

All rosters and entry fees for the district softball tournament to be held at Gaston park next week must be in tonight by 6 o'clock, it is announced by co-chairmen Andy Benegasi and Norm Rhodes.

Schedule will be drawn up over the weekend, it is announced.

Browns Defeat Bears 27 To 23

Fourth Straight For Clevelanders

CLEVELAND, Sept. 2.—(INS)—The Cleveland Browns, four-times champions of the defunct All-America Football Conference, avenged the slurs of the past four years last night by scoring a 27-23 victory over the Chicago Bears before 51,076 spectators in Municipal stadium.

The Browns, sneered at by rival National League clubs during the four years of AAC existence, proved their right to a place among top pro elevens with the victory over the men of George Halas.

It was the fourth straight exhibition win for the Cleveland team and the third over a team from the once-rival NFL.

Graham-Lujack Stars
Rival quarterbacks Otto Graham and Johnny Lujack sparked the offensive action. The Cleveland ace threw one scoring pass and set up another touchdown with three straight completed aeri-als. Lujack pitched for all three of the Bear touchdowns.

Lou Groza helped the Browns to their win by booting two field goals and kicking three extra points. Cleveland's third touchdown was registered on a 79-yard return of a Bear punt by rookie Ken Carpenter from Oregon State.

Warren Races Will Provide Thrills

WARREN, O., Sept. 2.—The local stock car drivers from the Warren-Niles area are making plans to gather most of the prizes in the stock car racing events at the Trumbull County Fairgrounds at Warren, O., Labor Day.

However, there is a group of determined race drivers from the City of Hubbard, Ohio, who believe that the hopes and aspirations of the Warren-Niles boys are a little premature.

The program will consist of seven events with time trials starting at noon, and the first event promptly at 2:30, with three heat races, two semi-finals, a consolation and the feature on the half mile track, which is now being prepared and will be dust proof and in excellent condition for this stock car racing program on Labor Day.

Athletics Whip Red Sox; Phillies Increase Lead

By JOHN BARRINGTON (N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Like small boys who can't stay out of the cookie jar, the American League's second division clubs refuse to stop jimmying up the pennant race.

Last year it was the Washington Senators whose effective downfield blocking enabled the New York Yankees to sprint past Boston to take the flag.

Just this week, both the Senators and the Philadelphia Athletics ganged up on the Detroit Tigers and helped cancel their lease on first place.

Athletics Stop Sox
And last night, it was the Athletics again—giving the full treatment this time to the ambitious Red Sox.

Steve O'Neill's Buckaroos came to Philadelphia on their first sortie from Fenway Park since they had won 15 out of 16 on a sensational home stand.

The Athletics hadn't beaten the Red Sox since April 23. But did that mean anything to the cellar-dwelling A's? It did not. Bobby Shantz, the knee-high lefty who also achieved that April 23 win, tossed a six-hitter at the Sox last night and whipped them, 4 to 2.

Yanks Top Senators
The second-division charm almost worked against the Yanks, too, although they finally licked Washington, 6 to 2.

The Philadelphia Phillies stretched their lead to seven full games by walloping Boston, 7 to 3, while the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers were losing, 4 to 1. And the New York Giants, by beating the Dodgers, took undisputed possession of fourth place as Pittsburgh (defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 10 to 4.

NEVER MAKE A CLAIM YOU CAN'T BACK UP

That has been our motto since we entered the motor equipment business. If we say we can repair your car properly, we can and do. And when we say that Federal trucks are built for that hard trucking operation of yours, we mean it.

We're proud to be selling Federal trucks. Dollar for dollar, pound for pound, mile for mile they stand out in comparison with other trucks. You never had complete satisfaction with a motor truck until you have tried a Federal.

Jones Denies Jumping Cards

Issues Statement
From Home On Coast

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2.—(INS)—Vernon (Nippy) Jones, first baseman for the St. Louis Cardinals, denied today his Los Angeles home that he "jumped the team." Jones said he left the club with the consent and knowledge of owner Fred Saigh. However, the Cards announced yesterday that Jones had been suspended indefinitely for failing to show up when the team left by train for Pittsburgh Thursday evening. The ailing first sacker stated:

"The news of my suspension came as a shock. I told Mr. Saigh that I'm not ready to play baseball. I have a back injury and my legs are giving me trouble."

He said he had asked to be put on the voluntary retirement list for the remainder of the year and that Saigh told him to write a letter to Commissioner Chandler to that effect.

Game Carded For Montgomery Field

New Castle All-Stars will play the New Castle Independents (not to be confused with the Lawrence Indies) Sunday afternoon at Montgomery field. After the Mid-Atlantic Shagnessy playoff ends, the All-Stars will play the Senators three games, according to Carm DeLoone.

ERIE, Pa., Sept. 2.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Steelers today boasted three victories in four football exhibition games, the latest a 44 to 0 trouncing of the Erie Vets at Erie last night.

Nearly 8,000 fans saw the National Football league squad run over the Vets. Five Pittsburgh touchdowns were on ground plays, and fullback Jerry Nuzum scored three of them. The sixth came on a pass.

Joe Geri kicked the six extra points. An Erie safety added two points.

Fire Loss Small During August

Fire alarms answered by New Castle firemen during the month totaled 28, of which 15 were still alarms. There was one double alarm, Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink revealed in his monthly report to Director of Public Safety Richard I. Davis.

Four calls were for grass fires and four for auto fires, the total fire damage to buildings, contents and autos amounting to $4,025. Valuation of autos involved was $1,300, and to buildings and contents, $178,050. Six fires occurred in dwellings, eight in mercantile establishments and one in an auto repair garage.

One alarm was answered to a call outside the city limits, and three people were transported to hospitals by firemen.

A total of 4,350 feet of 2½-inch hose was laid and 350 feet of 1½-inch hose was used. A total of 255 feet of ladders was needed. Salvage covers were used six times. Indian fire fighters were used twice and carbon dioxide was used twice.

First Federal Purchases H.O.L.C. County Mortgages

Announcement was made today by Norman E. Clark, executive vice president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of New Castle, of the purchase by First Federal of the remaining mortgages held by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation in Lawrence county, with the exception of those within the borough limits of Ellwood City.

The Home Owners' Loan Corporation was created by an Act of Congress in the early thirties as a program of assistance to home owners during the depression emergency. Now that the corporation has fulfilled the purpose for which it was created it is being liquidated on a nation wide scale and the remaining mortgages sold to various financial interests in the mortgage field.

The Pennsylvania block, amounting to approximately $15,000,000, was sold to a group of 23 savings and loan associations in the state. The first Federal purchasing the Lawrence county group of about 275 mortgages amounting to approximately $300,000.

These loans are now being processed by the local institution, and within a few days borrowers will receive notice and instructions as to payments.

This change in ownership of these mortgages offers the home owner the added convenience of dealing with a local institution.

ARTERIES AND PLUMBING
Doctors and plumbers have a lot of pipes to look after. The pipes which carry the blood from the heart are called arteries.

Plumbers have to put new pipes in once in awhile. The old pipes get rusty and spring a leak.

Arteries have troubles too. They are supposed to be soft and flexible. Sometimes they get hard spots in them and spring a leak. The doctor cannot put in a new artery. The patient has a stroke and his troubles begin.

Obesity seems to be a bad thing for arteries. The extra amount of fat seems to damage them.

It is better to keep the waist line slender and the jowls streamline.

REMARriage OF YOUNG WIDOW

"I have been trying to find the answers to some questions I have concerning my forthcoming marriage. I am a young widow. My fiancé and I live in a city a few hundred miles from our home town. We have many friends in this city and wish to be married here rather than at home. Please tell me: (1) Is it proper to announce our own engagement or must my parents announce it? (2) What kind of a wedding would be in best taste under these conditions; that is, what kind of dress should I wear? How many attendants may we have—ushers, etc? (3) Since our parents do not live in this city, would it be proper for us to have a small reception at the church after the wedding?"

Answer: (1) It is indeed correct to announce your engagement, but on the contrary it is not essential to make any general announcement, if your parents do. Your parents may make the announcement even though you and they live in separate cities. Or if you are mature and independent, you may announce both your engagement and your marriage yourself, although I suggest that your parents do so. (2) You may, at your wedding, wear street-length clothes, suitable for travel or a long pastel dress and matching hat or floral headress. You must not wear white which is reserved for maidens brides. You may have only one attendant—a maid or matron of honor. Bridesmaids are for maidens brides only. You may have as many or as few guests as you wish and from two to six ushers if you will need them to take care of your guests. You may have any kind of reception you like. There are no restrictions on that phase of your marriage.

Question: My daughter will be married in street-length clothes. She says she will carry an arm bouquet. I say she should wear a corsage. Who is correct? (2) The groom's family is from out of town and consequently we have not met them. Will it be proper for us to have open house the night before the wedding or will a dinner be sufficient for him and his family? The reception will be for just the two families and a few friends.

Answer: Although it is not incorrect for the informal bride to carry an arm bouquet, it is usual for her and more attractive too, I think, to wear a corsage. Your open house idea the night before the wedding is a good one, if you and your daughter think it will not tire you too much. A dinner for him and his family will suffice.
